

Exciting News for Children making their First Communion

This year, Father David, Deacon Tom, and I have decided to try out a beautiful new program to help our First Communion students learn about the Sacrament they will be receiving on May 5th. This new program comes from a company called, “Dynamic Catholic”, a very appropriate name for a company that brings our faith to life for all to experience.

This new program is comprised of charming, short video clips for each lesson as well as a beautifully illustrated workbook which belongs to the individual child. That means that all their work, thoughts, and ideas should be written down for them to keep as a remembrance of this special occasion in their lives.

We here at Fourteen Holy Helpers have always said that we thank you for sharing the important job of teaching the faith to your children with us; however, you are the primary faith model to your child. For this reason, we are entrusting you to teach your child about the Sacrament of Communion utilizing this wonderful program. I, as well as Father David, and your child’s catechist will be with you along the road to answer questions, give advice, or just to talk about what you and your child are up to!

I’d love to hear from you if you have some ideas for enhancing these materials with activities, like games, field trips, TV programs, books, etc.

Here are the directions for using Blessed First Communion:

- Google the parish website: fourteenholyhelpers.org.
- Look at the menu bar and click on “Faith”. This is a drop down menu.
- The First option is “Religious Education for Youth”.
- Click that option and three more options appear.
- Click on the “First Communion” option.
- Scroll down the section that says “Program”.

After that, you will have six pages that include the Name of the Session, Quick Overview of the Session, and Objectives of the Session. The time frame of each session is approximately 90 minutes. Please don’t rush through but take time to pray, read, discuss, and have your child answer questions and journal, draw, whatever is asked for.
